

Arts to Share

Have fun and engaging sessions whenever and however you want...

Introduction

Activities to Share (A2S) offers customers the facility to have a consignment stock of arts and crafts materials to enable easier access to the materials needed to run fun and engaging sessions with residents whenever and however you want. The stock remains A2S' property until used, so this doesn't cost anything for your care home upfront. You only pay for what you use.

Benefits

- You don't need to raise purchase orders and wait for delivery every time you need an arts and craft item, you can simply go and pick it up from the stock.
- It is very convenient
- It doesn't cost you anything up front
- If you don't like it then you can stop at any time without any fees
- You are charged the same prices as if you were buying from us anyway, so there's no extra cost
- You could save on delivery charges
- You always have what you need

How it works

We send you a special stand/storage unit along with a wide selection of Arts and Crafts materials, which you setup in an appropriate location in your care home. You can then remove and use the materials as required. We will ask you to perform a stock check from time to time and based on this we will bill you for what you have used and send a restocking shipment as well to ensure you continue to have everything you need. From time to time we will request to come in and check the stock as well. With each stock check you can also change what you stock, for example if you find you are using something more often or not using something at all you can adjust your stock levels.

Terms

- The stock remains the property of Activities to Share until used, opened, lost, or damaged.
- Any item that is rendered as not re-sellable through being used, opened, lost, or damaged must be paid for by the customer.
- Activities to Share must be given access to perform stock checks upon request
- The customer must provide accurate stock checks upon request, no more often than once a month.
- Both the customer and Activities to Share reserve the right to have the stock removed at any time (Billing for any used items still applies).
- Re-stocking orders will attract postage and packing fees inline with whatever Activities to Share's current policy is i.e. free shipping thresholds will apply to the value of the restocking order as they would to any other order.
- The customer is responsible to ensure the stock is kept in a safe, clean, and appropriate place and manner.
- The customer must keep products bought separately from Activities to Share, or any other supplier, separate from the consignment stock i.e. the storage unit mustn't become a general arts and craft storage unit.
- The prices of used, and therefore billed, items will be whatever the price is set at on the day the stock check is processed. These prices are always live on our website. Any special prices or arrangements with the customer shall still apply.
- By signing this agreement the customer is agreeing to pay our invoices for used stock within our usual terms. This might require the customer to raise a reusable PO number, or some other means.
- When we first deliver the stand there will be an initial stock list this, in combination with subsequent transactions, shall form the basis of recording the use of stock.
- It is the customer's responsibility to report any shortages or issues with restocking orders, failing to do so may result in discrepancies for which the customer will be billed.
